My Happy Weekend

Last Saturday morning, my cousin, Kiran came to visit me. She always feels excited whenever she comes to my home. She had to stay with me because her aunt was too busy with the cleaning work.

Kiran and I watched TV happily. We liked to watch a channel called "Dhar Mann". It was an interesting programme. It talked about some kind of topics related to "Don't Bully" and "Don't Fat Shame Anyone". We learnt a lot of things from this programme.

In the afternoon, we went to the park with Kiran's aunt. We played with the swings while Kiran's aunt was sitting on the bench, feeling a bit bored. Suddenly, we raised an idea to play together with Kiran's aunt. We had a competition of jumping jacks. The one who got most jumping jacks won the game.

Kiran's aunt kept winning in all rounds. After that, we had cold drinks at 7-11 store because we were really thirsty. Then we went home together happily. It was an amazing day.

Happiest Memory: We played with Kiran's aunt. It was so fun and Kiran's aunt kept on winning.
